

SHINGLE WANTS THE SHOES OF CUPID

Would Place Kuhio in Joe Fern's Job Here.

HE DENIES RUMOR

Summons All Friends to Luau to Launch His Boom.

(From Sunday's Advertiser.)
Bob Shingle wants to go to Washington as the successor of Cupid. Kuhio is slated for Joe Fern's job at the city hall, and H. L. Holstein, the national committeeman, is going to the mainland as soon as may be to take part in the scrap over delegations, and put in a few hard licks at the Frear administration wherever he thinks they will do the most good. On the whole the political pot is bubbling right merrily.

Shingle and the Shinglites are dodging the responsibility for the report of Bob's secret ambitions. Indeed Shingle and not a few of the more prominent members of the Kuhio crowd have gone to the trouble of denying privim and seriatim the statements that he wants to be delegate to congress and wants Cupid mayor of Honolulu. But there are just as good men on the other side of the fence who do not hesitate to say that the suggestion came from Shingle in the first place, and was made by him to the Taft Leaguers.

This revives the statement made in The Advertiser months ago that Shingle was ambitious to become Hawaii's representative in congress, although Shingle denied the rumor at the time. It was the first move on the local political chess board to get rid of Kuhio, and offer him the booby prize of being Honolulu's mayor with a pension of $250 a month, an auto, a secretary and an entertainment fund.

Shingle Luau and Boom.
A political luau is to be given today at the Pearl Harbor home of Col. Sam Parker and Shingle, for the "Immortal Seventy," who stood by the Kuhio ticket in the convention. Some of the "seventy" are on other islands, but proxies will be used today, so that the list will be complete. In addition, there will be a large number of other friends asked to attend the pow-wow. A special train will leave Honolulu at 10 o'clock this morning carrying about two hundred people. It is believed that the delegate boom of Mr. Shingle will be carefully presented to the feasters.

Holstein, who was among the list of would-have-been-delegates for the Chicago convention, will be one of the leaders in the Kuhio fight against Governor Frear in Washington. Mr. Holstein is reported as saying that there is no use now in going to Washington to fight the reappointment of Governor Frear, but he will carry the fight into the national committee room. This committee is to consider the protest filed by the anti-Frearites against the appointment of the Governor.

Charges Aplenty Popping.
It is stated with certainty that those opposed to the Governor, who are going to Washington, will charge the Frear faction with coercion and bribery in connection with their recent victory in the territorial convention. The Frearites laugh when this charge is made, and say that there is something they might bring to the surface on the Kuhio faction relative to a certain check which they allege was filed with the Inter-Island Steamship company as payment for the passage of a number of delegates from other islands, all of whom came as Kuhio voters, and opposed to Frear. This check matter will be aired should the anti-Frearites make too much of a fight before Washington authorities.

Governor Frear may leave the latter part of May for Chicago and Washington. Charles Rice of Kauai, who, it is expected, will be national committeeman for Hawaii, succeeding H. L. Holstein, will leave about May 29. John Wise may leave about the middle of May as he expects to go to Oberlin to attend commencement exercises, before going to the Chicago convention as an alternate.

PARIS AQUARIUM AFTER LIVE HAWAIIAN FISHES

The demand for live Hawaiian fishes is increasing and every month a new request for them is registered at the promotion committee's office. Sydney wants live fishes; Brussels wants a liberal number of species, and now Paris is in line for any if they are to be had. The Paris aquarium director has had his interest in Hawaiian fishes stimulated by the collections of postal cards showing the native species, and he now wants a description of the Honolulu aquarium, the method of tanking fish, and wants to know how they are caught, and what methods are used to transport them to other places.

"CLEAN-UP WEEK" NOW PROPOSED

SIX DAYS BAKING AND ONE DAY WITH MANY CARTS FOR SPOTLESS TOWN.

(From Sunday's Advertiser.)
The entire first week of June for Honolulu's second "clean-up" is the suggestion advanced by Ed. Towse, one of the special committee of the Central Improvement Association which has the matter in hand.

Mr. Towse talked over the necessity for another "Clean-Up Day" for Honolulu with President Pratt of the board of health yesterday, finding the health official very much in favor of the idea. It was during the conference that the suggestion of a "Clean-Up Week" was broached. The suggestion ought to find favor with the general public, as through its adoption could be avoided the hang-over mixup of the first attempt to wash Honolulu's face and brush Honolulu's teeth and make it presentable.

Week of Inspection.
"Our committee has not yet written its report and it might be premature to say now just what we may recommend," said Mr. Towse yesterday, "but it is likely that we will take up the Clean-Up Week idea and urge it upon the improvement association. Our idea will be to have a corps of sixty or seventy volunteer inspectors to go over the town during the first five days of the week, explaining to the people what should be done and encouraging everyone to do his own share toward making a Spotless Town. Then, on the sixth day, when everyone has his piles of debris ready to cart away, we would arrange to have the carts of the city garbage department, the wagons of the road department, whatever drays and wagons we can have lent us and whatever others we may have to hire make a general collection. It is unlikely this time, with what we have learned in the past, that we would have any great quantities of debris left over."

"Fortunately, as all tenement house proprietors, restaurateurs, lodging house people and such have to renew their licenses on July 1, and cannot secure renewals until after their premises have been inspected and found clean and sanitary, we will have no trouble at all in getting them to co-operate heartily with us."
"Our Clean-Up Week, if it is decided to have one, coming after the efficient scouring done by the men of the Citizen's Sanitary Committee and the work of the first Clean-Up Day, should about finish up everything there may be to do in making Honolulu an absolutely clean and sanitary city."

WANT STRONG MAN ON A CHARGE OF "LIFTING" TRUNKS

(From Sunday's Advertiser.)
Strong man Antone Pirri who was one of the stars in the Honolulu Amusement Company's firmament, that set soon, was a strong man to such good intents and purposes that the San Francisco police swore out a warrant against him on charge of larceny, declaring he "lifted" trunks all the way from the Golden Gate to Honolulu.

Chief McDuffie yesterday received a letter from Acting Chief of Police Shea of San Francisco. The mainland officials, it seems, were unwilling to resort to extradition for the strong man and merely asked McDuffie to induce him to return the trunks. The chief, however, had the pleasure of cabling back that Pirri had left on the Welhelmina, trunks and all. He is also accused of being a bigamist.

HILO JAIL FAILS TO HOLD BOLD, BAD FILIPINO ROBBERS SENT IN FROM OLAH

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.)

HILO, April 26.—While Hilu was worrying about Filipino burglars, the suburb of Olaha has worse troubles. There they sent burglars to jail, only to find them parading about in their old haunts a few days later.

The trouble at Olaha began a few weeks ago, when the railroad station office at Eight Miles was robbed. When the station agent went to work one morning, he discovered that his ticket box had disappeared. It was found later about half a mile from the house. It had been broken open, but nothing had been taken but a piece of chalk. Further investigation disclosed the fact that the burglars had tried to open the door of the steel safe by twisting the knobs off the hinges.

Plantation Officer Coleman was called in by the agent. He saw from the foolish attempt which had been made on the safe, that the burglary was the work of inexperienced hands, so he set out to find them. Coleman ran down a couple of suspicious-looking Filipinos, and these he took with him to the jail, where he kept them locked up for investigation.

He did not have much in the way of clues to go on, but finally he discovered that the two had been concerned in a couple of other burglaries which had been committed in the Chinese quarters during that same night, and the men were convicted on charges connected therewith. Judge Ferry gave them a year each in jail.

So to the Hilu jail were sent the two Filipinos, and the Olaha people breathed more freely, when, a few days later, they found to their surprise that one of the men, who was supposed to be safely under the guardian wing of Jailer Mahy, was once more in town. It is reported that when he was accosted, he produced a paper, signed by the authorities, warning those whom it might concern that the bearer was under police protection, and that he was out on business both private and urgent, or words to that effect. On this showing the jailbird managed to enjoy his freedom for several days. Then the matter was called to the attention of Judge Ferry, and then ended the Filipino's little vacation, for the judge refused to take notice of his official letter and had him sent back to jail, where he is now.

HAWAII COURT RESTORES PROPERTY TO WIDOW, OBTAINED FROM HER BY TRICKERY

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.)

HILO, April 26.—When Daniel F. B. Henry secured from Mrs. Sarah B. Lacerdo a deed to all her property in Puna, he did so by the exercise of undue influence and by fraud. This was the decision rendered Tuesday by Judge Parsons in the suit to cancel the deed, brought by Mrs. Lacerdo against Henry. The court ordered that the deed be canceled and that the defendant pay the costs of the case.

In its decision the court states that the defendant is the brother of the plaintiff's late husband. She was the owner of land at Kaehe, valued at $5000, and of a house and lot at Kapoho, valued at $1800. The plaintiff, says the court, is inexperienced in business matters, has never had the care and management of property, is addicted to the excessive use of intoxicating liquors, is of slight intelligence and of will power far inferior to that of the defendant.

On the death of the plaintiff's husband, the defendant, with his family, went to live with the widow, and the two soon became very friendly and confidential. As a matter of fact, Mrs. Lacerdo came to look upon Henry as her main adviser, and at his suggestion she drew from the bank $3000, the entire amount of life insurance left her. Part of this she used for the payment of debts, and the rest she placed under Henry's exclusive control.

RUSSIANS ALL HAVE LEFT FOR PLANTATIONS

With the departure of the island steamers the latter part of the week all of the Russians who have been at the territorial immigration station are now en route or arrived at various plantations on the other islands, and there are none of this race left at the station under the care of Doctor Clark. For a time it looked as if a number would not go to the plantations but would remain in the city for work. This was decided against at last and all took to the plantation game.

By the middle or last of the present week it is hoped to get most of the Spanish and Portuguese immigrants, who arrived on the Harpallion, away to their plantation homes. The steamers leaving Tuesday will take many and there will be but a few left at the territorial station after the Friday steamer sails.

CLOSES ACCOUNT WITH HONOLULU

SANITATION COMMITTEE LEAVES CITY NON-INFECTIBLE BY YELLOW FEVER.

(From Sunday's Advertiser.)

Closing their account with the citizens of Honolulu whom they have been serving as the civic sanitation committee for the past five months, the seven members of that organization yesterday approved the final report written by the chairman, W. F. Dillingham, and dissolved.

The final figures for the campaign were given as $100,804.25, but the details of the report, which awaits a few amendments, will not be given out until it has been presented to the chamber of commerce and the merchants' association.

The lift of the committee will occupy a large share in the history of Honolulu for the past half-year. It originated in the midst of a general alarm over the presence of yellow fever in Honolulu and dissolved after leaving the city absolutely immune to that disease, and to remain so as long as ordinary precautions are maintained.

Its first meeting was held the night after the committee had been named, in the board of health building and then planned out their campaign with a great deal of misgiving. That session lasted for four straight hours and when it broke up all the kicks that were to come had been foreseen and discounted and the members were resolved to clean the city up in spite of the protests of half the population and pledged to the almost impossible task of securing the $123,000 that Doctor Currie estimated the campaign would cost.

ENGINEERS STILL TROUBLED BY THE DRYDOCK PROBLEM

Will the new concrete mixture discovered by the naval engineers cap the bottom of the Pearl Harbor drydock basin so effectively that after the dock is turned over to the government by the contractors the material will continue to withstand the tremendous pressure from underneath? The naval engineers are satisfied that they are solving the concrete problem, and that the second test of the concrete brick tomorrow will demonstrate the fact that they are on the right track, but the drydock contractors are not so certain.

A cablegram has been sent to Engineer F. S. Smith of the San Francisco Bridge Company, who has been in personal charge of the drydock work, asking him to secure certain information regarding tests, sand, and mixtures, so that when he returns to Honolulu from the Coast the data for future work will be complete. The concrete test brick will be drawn out tomorrow and subjected to a minute inspection. If it reveals no flaws the naval engineers will be ready to pronounce the mixture O. K. and the contractors can go ahead with that formula and commence their work over again.

W. F. Dillingham, president of the Hawaiian Dredging Company, which excavated the drydock basin, states that in the event of more money being available for the extension of the 800-foot dock to 1000 feet, his company will do the work, the original contract containing a provision that for any extensions or alterations the company would be called upon to do the work at so much per foot.

"The only difficulty," says Mr. Dillingham, "is that the inner end of the dock has already been closed by a false cribwork section where concreting has been under way for sometime. We can't get a dredger in behind that portion of the dock, for the extension would be made 200 feet inland. With the use of a dredger such as we use the work will be extremely difficult. We have heard that there is a lot of money available for this work, and as soon as we are notified that the work is to be done, we will get ready and carry out our part of the contract."

BRAVE BOY SCOUT SAVES GIRL FROM DEATH IN A TANK

Eddie Akau, a thirteen year old lad, tested his mettle and also proved the efficiency of the Boy Scout training, when he rescued a drowning child from the Palama gymnasium tank Friday. A little girl who was swinging on the rings over the pool lost her hold and fell into the water. Eddie saw her fall and soon realized that she was unable to swim. The child rose and sank twice before the boy could reach her and then he went down after her. He brought her to the surface, but she had taken a strange hold on his neck and it required all his presence of mind to break the hold according to the Boy Scout regulations. In spite of his difficulties he brought her safely ashore where it required twenty minutes to revive her. Akau is a member of the Palama Junior Troop of which Spencer Bowen is scoutmaster and his case will be forwarded to the Boy Scouts' National Council, so it is possible that Eddie will wear a lifesaving medal in due course of time.
